Motives, Values, Preferences Inventory (MVPI)

Report for: Anindita Bose

ID: HL689291

Date: 5.02.2026

Introduction

The Motives, Values, Preferences Inventory describes peoples' core values, goals, and interests. This information is crucial for understanding the kinds of jobs and work environments people find congenial and will help them make better career decisions. This report provides information in terms of 10 value dimensions; each dimension contains five subscales concerning Lifestyles, Beliefs, Occupational Preferences, Aversions, and Preferred Associates.

- People use their values to make decisions, but they rarely analyze their values and often make decisions for reasons they do not fully understand. Becoming aware of their values should improve their decision-making.
- People prefer to associate with others who share their values. Thus, understanding values allows people to manage their relationships more effectively.
- If people choose careers and work in organizations whose cultures are inconsistent with their values, they are usually unhappy and unable to perform effectively. Conversely, if they choose careers and work in organizations that are consistent with their values, they are usually more satisfied and perform more effectively.
